The duel will be fought in New York. While Hale was away in a United States training-ship, his mother was drawing $100 a month income from him. Hala claims that his mother used the oney to fit up a house in New York for her daughter who married Gilroy.

Hale sued his mother and the case came up in the Salem Court Monday, but the mother did not appear.

Hale went to New York yesterday and served papers on his mother. This morning he met Gilroy in the Parker House, this city, and charged Gilroy with living on his income. The quarrel then arose and the men were prevented from injuring each other by bystanders.
